DRAMA OF THE SEA.

Wreck of Republic Spectacular.

Two Passengers Dead, Two Injured, but Thousand Are Saved.

Big Liners, Hurried to Scene, Bring Human Cargoes to Port.

Wonder at Miracle of Wireless Grows and Means New Era of Safety.

(Associated Press Night Report.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] One of the greatest dramas of the sea reached its conclusion tonight when the Republic, with its human salvage from the Republic and the Florida of over a thousand souls, dropped anchor behind Sandy Hook.

But a few hours before, the second climax in the wreck of the Republic had occurred when the palatial liner sank off No Man's Land, going down in forty fathoms of water so quickly that the last that the captain and crew who had remained with her had barely time to leave.

But for the modern miracle of wireless telegraphy this drama might have been one of the greatest tragedies of the sea. The lives of 1200 passengers on the two ships that collided were in danger. As it was the tragic element was lacking. A list of dead has been flashed through the air as the steamers returned and gives the following names:

LYNCH, Mrs. Eugene, Boston, Mass. MOONEY, W. J., Landron, N. D. Four negro sailors whose names have not been given.

Injured: Lynch, Eugene, husband of Mrs. Lynch. (A Boston newspaper is reported to have received a message that Mr. Lynch had died on the Republic.)

Murphy, Mrs. P. J., Grand Forks, N. D.

The sinking of the Republic by the Florida, off Nantucket, has been followed by a series of events constituting one of the most remarkable ocean mishaps on record.

SEVEN LINERS FIGURE.

Not less than seven ocean liners—the Republic, New York, Furberia, La Lorraine and Lucania, and the two crippled steamers, Florida and Republic—figure in the stirring story. Some 442 passengers and members of the crew of the Republic have undergone two transfers on the open sea, first to the crippled Florida early Saturday morning, and early today to the more commodious Baltic, which brought also the sea and more passengers from the disabled Florida.

With this great cargo of rescued human persons, besides her own list of 500 passengers, the Baltic arrived tonight.

The Florida, her bow bent from the terrific impact with the Republic, is slowly steering, under her own steam, for this port, conveyed by the American liner New York.

On an exact hour today it was believed no one was killed or injured, but shortly after midnight the wireless telegraph, that mysterious force which has apprised the world of the Republic's distress, flashed the news that two passengers on the Republic had been killed and two injured.

Late in the day another wireless message told of four deaths on board the Republic, either of the members of the crew or steerage passengers. The identity of these was not made clear.

DEATHS NOT EXPLAINED.

How the passengers of the Republic were killed, or the nature of the injuries to Mrs. Murphy and Mr. Lynch, is not known by officials of the White Star Line, who have communicated with relatives of the dead and injured.

WOMAN AT THROTTLE.

Dons Overalls and Sends Train at Mile-a-Minute.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) GAINESVILLE (Ga.) Jan. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Donning overalls and goggles, Mrs. E. H. Douglass, wife of the general manager of the Georgia Midland Railroad, last night handled the throttle of a locomotive that drew a train from Athens to this place, a distance of sixty miles.

Mrs. Douglass has learned how to handle a locomotive during trips with her husband over the line and last night when the train left Athens, she asked to be allowed to ride on the engine. The engineer consented, and Mrs. Douglass climbed into the cab and took charge of the throttle. She made the sixty miles from Athens to Gainesville in eighty minutes, including stops. At times she sent the train along at more than a mile a minute.

to the Baltic was begun. Fortunately the sea was as placid as a lake. Meanwhile the Republic drifted away in the dark and was lost to the sight of those on board the Baltic and Florida.

The French steamer La Lorraine, the first of the many ships that participated in this stirring sea incident, arrived in port today. She was 120 miles from the scene when her officers were informed of the Republic's plight; by the Marconi operator at Salsconet, Mass., early Saturday.

"Q. D.," the ominous letters of the international sea code, indicating distress, had aroused the sleepy operator in his room on the French steamer, and a few minutes later came the words: "Republic wrecked; wants assistance," followed by her latitude and longitude of the ship in distress.

"Tell them I am coming," responded Capt. Fournier, when he was informed of the call, and for the next six hours he sent his ship tearing through the fog at the dangerous speed of twenty knots, which brought her to the scene shortly after the hour of noon. Then, and until midnight, La Lorraine remained slowly about in the mist, waiting for the stricken ship.

All this time La Lorraine was in close wireless touch with the White Star liner Baltic, which also had hastened to the aid of her sister ship. Finally, as night was falling, the Baltic flashed a message which told those on La Lorraine that the endangered passengers of the stricken ship were safe on board the Italian liner Florida. This, coupled with a request from the Baltic to follow the Florida into New York, sent La Lorraine on her belated homeward way.

The Republic was in tow of the revenue cutter Gretham, and the derelict crew of the Republic have undergone two transfers on the open sea, first to the crippled Florida early Saturday morning, and early today to the more commodious Baltic, which brought also the sea and more passengers from the disabled Florida.

With this great cargo of rescued human persons, besides her own list of 500 passengers, the Baltic arrived tonight.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Inner circles at the capital are keenly interested in the circumstances which seem to assure Postmaster General Meyer and his accomplished wife a place in President-elect Taft's official family. It was generally understood for a time that George von Lengerke Meyer was slated for retirement, not because of any inharmonious, but because, having WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Some of those hysterical protectionists may hurt their own cause, yet, unless they are restrained, or learn to take counsel from their representatives in Congress about what to do to promote legislation. It may be said with authority that this is the official opinion of Hon. James C. Needham, who represents California, not to speak of the rest of the Union, on the Ways and Means Committee, and who is giving all of his attention at present to the work of compiling a new tariff schedule.

It is but natural that persons interested in industries which they wish to have protected, should feel anxiety about the action of Congress, but they cannot hope to achieve any results (that is, from whom the appeal came) are worth while without working in harmony with their representatives in Congress.

This is true of the tariff situation in general, but it applies particularly to the grape growers, who have heard a rumor that the tariff on Chalmers grapes was to be reduced. Without waiting to inquire further, a memorial was dispatched to Washington urging that the subject be reopened for argument with a view to retaining the present duty. Needham replied as follows to the Chamber of Commerce, Fresno, from whom the appeal came: "Report that grapes made free without foundation. Owing to executive nature of committee proceedings, cannot state what has been done, but feel sure when same is known it will be gratifying to the growers. No further hearing desirable or necessary."

"J. C. NEEDHAM."

Needham might well have added, as he was tempted to "Stop further agitation, it is harmful," but he simply suppressed the memorial and let it go at that.

Now suppose that the committee had agreed to give the grape growers a little to the duty, wouldn't it have made them mad when they found out that they had themselves spilled the fat in the fire by getting the case reopened?

WEDS AT FATHER'S COFFIN.

Society Belle is Married in Same Room Where Funeral Service is Held Hour After.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) MOUNT VERNON (N. Y.) Jan. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It became known today that an unusual wedding ceremony took place last night when Miss Daisy Helme, a society belle of Mount Vernon, was married one hour before the funeral of her father, to Francis M. Oliver of London, England.

Miss Helme's father, John C. Helme, a New York accountant, was asphyxiated by gas in his home on Wednesday, and there was much mystery surrounding his death as he was found lying in bed with the gas jet turned on.

The wedding and funeral services took place in the same house an hour apart, and were in charge of Rev. Charles B. Seymour, pastor of the Vernon Heights Congregational Church. The wedding was a very solemn one and occurred at 7 p.m., in the same room where the body of the bride's father lay in a casket. Only a few relatives and relatives gathered and the funeral services were held.

JAIL FOR REVOLUTIONISTS.

CITY OF MEXICO, Jan. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The thirty-four revolutionists who were tried at Chiluhua recently and sentenced to terms of imprisonment ranging from ten to twenty years, have been escorted to Vera Cruz in a large force of rurales and placed in the famous San Juan de los Rios prison. Several of the prisoners belong to wealthy and prominent families of the State of Chihuahua.

Although it is now generally admitted there is little or no prospect for the passing of the postal bill at this session, interest in the subject has by no means disappeared. Petitions for enactment of this law continue to pour in upon the Senate, and it is understood that a majority of the Senate is for the bill, provided a vote can be reached.

But the prospect for a vote in the upper branch is very poor, and no one has even a hope that Speaker Cannon and his lieutenants will permit the measure to come up at their end of the Capitol. In fact, the leaders of the two houses have a tacit agreement that there is to be no legislation of importance at this session save the passing of the regular bills. Virtually everything else is to be held up.

Just why the leaders adopt this policy is not clear. At least no adequate explanation is vouchsafed except the vague one that "this is a good time to do nothing."

O. A. Tveitmo and Men of His Type Disregardful of Nation's Good.

BY B. FRANK GREAVES.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Los Angeles and probably the entire Southern California delegation in the Legislature may be depended upon to stand by the President and Gov. Gillett in their desire that no legislation aimed directly at the Japanese be enacted at this session. The backbone of these members has been stiffened by receipt of advices from representative men at home that no inflammatory bills be passed and by the receipt of communications from the Chamber of Commerce and other influential bodies of men in San Francisco to the same effect.

Union labor leaders in San Francisco and their following in Sacramento, led by Assemblyman Grove L. Johnson, and in Fresno, headed by Assemblyman Drew, the one-time Lincoln-Roosevelt banner bearer, are the bottom of all the agitation. They are the fire-eaters of the lower house, they would invite all sorts of international complications in order to make grand stand plays with those who support them.

OFFENSIVE LOBBY.

Though there is no excuse for the unwholesome "people's lobby" and loud-voiced reformers of like stripe, the Asiatic Exclusion League of San Francisco is even more offensive in its communications to members of the Legislature than "Cliff" Roosevelt's lobby has pretended to be.

That noted old ex-convict, O. A. Tveitmo of San Francisco, secretary of the State Building Trades Council, is president of the Asiatic Exclusion League. He has sent offensive letters to all members of the Legislature, threatening them with all sorts of dire consequences if they dare to vote against any of the anti-Japanese measures, such as barring Japanese children from the public schools, herding Japanese in certain quarters by themselves, prohibiting Japs from holding places as directors of corporations, and denying Japs the right to own real estate in California.

LEGISLATURE BANE.

The strongest communication yet received by one from the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, requesting that all these bills be opposed. The appeals and threats of Tveitmo and his followers have no weight in face of the attitude of men who really represent all that makes for the good of San Francisco and the State, and it is fair to expect that when the Japanese matters come up for consideration in the Assembly next Thursday, a sane course will be followed.

The only danger lies in the attitude of the large number of legislators from rural districts who may be swayed by the smooth talk of Grove L. Johnson of Sacramento, representing the union-labor jingoes, who will strain his weak heart and sonile brain in an effort to embarrass international and State governments to arrive at a peaceable solution of the problem.

PARENTAL COURT BILL.

OFFERED BY IGNORANT.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Opposition has developed in the Assembly to the parental court bill introduced by Hammond of Los Angeles, through which it is proposed to apply throughout the State the provisions of the juvenile court law that has proved effective in Los Angeles county. Representatives of the smaller counties, who never have investigated the question of dealing with young offenders and who know nothing of the good that has been accomplished under the Los Angeles practice, are inclined to fight the plan. They apparently prefer to send young boys and girls to the penitentiary rather than to give them chance under probation, or to send them to Whittier and the Preston School of Industry at Ione.

Hammond finds himself confronted with a fierce fight and is bending himself to a campaign of education among the members in the northern part of the State, who have concerned themselves little about the welfare of young offenders, or about the expense to State and county that is involved in sending all such law breakers to State prison or to one of the two institutions in which the aim is to build up character rather than to punish individuals.

A mere matter of a cost of $75 a month in providing a probation officer for each of the smaller counties is the principal stumbling block, according to the Assen "men who represent the small counties of the north. The plan is an innovation to them, and they are afraid their constituents will balk at the expense.

The parental court bill is said to be an improvement on the method now in use.

WIND AND RAIN.

WIRELESS NEWS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WIRELESS NIGHT REPORT.

Two trains, the first to cross the temporary trestle over Stony Creek, which was carried away last week by the heavy rains, crossed the bridge, but will go no farther north tonight, unless the telegraph lines are repaired.

There has been no communication with points north of here all day.

A heavy snow fell during the day from the Sacramento to the Delta line; from Red Bluff south it rained.

One of the trains stalled there in the morning, and the General, on his way to Washington, who is on his way to Olympia to be inaugurated.

SACRAMENTO FALLING.

([ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.])

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 24.—The Sacramento River, regardless of the fact that a strong south wind blew most of the day, has fallen nearly two feet since midnight Saturday.

It has rained steadily since noon, as there is freezing weather in foothills and mountains, the streams will only be required to maintain the river level on the mountains.

It is felt that danger from the flood in the delta lands to the south is past. The water in the Sacramento River there has fallen six inches, and that all levees are standing with no probability of submergence of any of the delta lands.

The wind was strong there in the afternoon, but fell when the sun went down.

Isleton, Walnut Grove and Courtland gave equally encouraging reports, and there is a general feeling that danger accumulation of water is past.

The water is still pouring into Sacramento Island. At the present rate it will take five days to fill it. No crop can be grown on the island, and the loss there is estimated at a million and a half.

FLOODS THREATENED.

([ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.])

MARYSVILLE, Jan. 24.—Another big storm is raging on the watersheds of the Yuba and Sutter rivers, and probably will cause a rise in both streams tomorrow.

The first train from Sacramento to Dunsmuir in ten days passed through here today, bringing a large accumulation of water.

RAIN AT RED BLUFF.

([ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.])

RED BLUFF, Jan. 24.—Rain fell last night and all today. The Sacramento River is again rising.

WINDY STORM.

([ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.])

SAN JOSE, Jan. 24.—A gusty wind-storm with occasional hard showers of cold rain, has been raging in the Santa Clara Valley all day, and the cold wind has abated somewhat and it is raining steadily. There is, however, no danger of serious high water.

Miss Mary, who is a member of the young society set of Grand Forks, and Margaret, who is attending school.

CALLS FLASHED THROUGH THE AIR.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "I'm on the job. Ship signals are being sent out. I'll tell you." Operator J. R. Binns, of Republic, to Wireless Operator J. B. Bour of La Lorraine to Binns, of the Republic.

"Keep cool, old man; keep courage. We'll get you out of that fix in a moment. Nearly blowing our boilers off."

How Wireless Operator Binns told the White Star Line Republic, told of the damage to the Republic with the Florida, was first told tonight by J. B. Bour, chief Marconi wireless operator at the station, near La Lorraine, which docked at Pier No. 41 North River, at 2 p.m. today.

"You want the story of his wireless from me, don't you? I'll tell it to you. It was 7 a.m. on Saturday, January 23, when my buzzers first began working, and sent me what I got from the station, near La Lorraine, 'C. Q. D.' That was repeated half a dozen times. 'C. Q. D.' in our code means 'all clear.' It was a signal from the international call for assistance, and implies a code of honor whereby every vessel within a radius of the danger zone must come to the aid of the vessel in distress."

"I immediately responded by the single letter 'G,' which means, 'send at once, en route.' Back came the answer from the station, 'G' across the void and thickening fog."

"M. L. L. (La Lorraine) (Lat. 40: 17; Long. 73: 05) was coming across the void and thickening fog."

"I immediately notified Capt. Tourneur, who was on the bridge at the station, and gave him the following message to the Siasconnet station on Nantucket:

"Please tell D. message received O. K. Notified Capt. M. L. L."

"Capt. Tourneur, after receiving the message, consulted his charts, made out the position of the ship, and gave the ship to head for the scene of the shipwreck. This all took time, but at 7:56 o'clock, on orders from Capt. Tourneur, I sent Siasconnet the following message:

"Please tell Republic we are 130 miles off. Shall reach her at 2 p.m. M. L. L."

"At precisely 9:45 a.m. after a ceaseless vigil, I got the 'G' signal from the Republic. This was the message I flashed:

"Please tell us if you are in fog and your exact position."

"At 10:00 a.m. after five minutes wait and back came the message:

"M. L. L.—Position, Lat. 40:17, Long. 73:05. We are 130 miles off."

The final message, which released La Lorraine from her fruitless search and sent her into port, came from the Baltimore station.

"Republic asks to steer for the Florida. She is proceeding to New York with passengers and cargo. Please advise her to stand by. She is blowing four blasts."

WIRELESS SYSTEM TO CIRCLE GLOBE.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Stirred by the inestimable value of the human contrivance of the wireless apparatus of the Republic, officers of the navy interested in wireless telegraphy, have been studying the world girdling system which will put the Navy Department here in touch with warships no matter in what part of the globe they may be.

Such a system primarily would be to enable the Navy Department to direct ships in far operations, and would be just the available for the purpose of saving lives as it would be for destroying them.

THE CITY IN BRIEF

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

From Keystone State.

Members of the Pennsylvania Society will meet in the Fraternal Brotherhood Hall, on Broadway street, tomorrow evening to take part in an interesting program, and the installation of their new officers.

It was fortunate for the hotels yesterday that the arrivals were far below the rush of the day before. Saturday night every downtown hotel was filled, and many late arrivals had to hunt up quarters in smaller houses on the hill. There are many tourists in the city awaiting the resumption of traffic to the North.

About Good Roads.

Logan W. Page, director of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, will speak this evening at Assembly Hall, Chamber of Commerce. He is an authority upon the history, construction and maintenance of good roads. The lecture is given under the direction of the California Good Roads Association. The public is invited to attend. Cells to Elect Officers.

The annual meeting of the Colic Club will be held at the Lankershim tomorrow evening with the usual dinner at 8:30 o'clock. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected. It is said that Dr. George W. Boyard of the University of Southern California will be named for the presidency. There will be a musical program to follow the business meeting.

Jap Gambler Caught.

Patrolmen Gamaah and Robbins early yesterday morning, raided a Japanese gambling joint on Jackson street, and arrested F. Muroki, E. Hasekura, T. Kino, F. Ikada and M. Moryama, who were engaged in play when the officers broke into the room. Several gambling appliances were seized. They will be arraigned in Police Court this morning.

Helding Down Lid.

Martha Martin, Lizzie Barde and Marcelle Ducrot were arrested yesterday afternoon by Patrolmen Sharlow and Owens in a raid upon the restricted Commercial street tenderloin district. The women were taken from houses at Nos. 351 and 353. Martha Martin was released on $50 cash bail, but the other women could not furnish the $100 bond required of them. They are charged with vagrancy.

"Health and Climate."

The Chamber of Commerce has new literature relating to the advantages of this section. It has just issued 25,000 copies of "Health and Climate," a booklet telling of the climatic advantages of various parts of the State. The little pamphlet, "You Should Know," has been printed in Spanish for free distribution. At this time of the year Secretary Wingfield has many calls for booklets and descriptive literature from tourists who want to send "back home" alluring accounts of the Sunset Land.

Will Save on Hay.

John Schuglin is mourning the loss of two horses, stolen Friday night, from a barn at the rear of his residence on Virnes near Banning street. One is a light bay mare, about five years old and weighing 200 pounds. The other a bay horse about five years old, weighing 1150 pounds, with a star in the face. The police are looking for a stolen horse from the ranch of the Union Sugar Company at Santa Maria, described as a brown mare, aged fourteen years, weighing 1100 pounds, lame in one hind foot and with an enlargement above the ankle joint caused by a wire cut.

RAIN'S ASSAULT.

STILL FEARING EARTH PERIL.

Cliff Threatens Near Punta Gorda Landslide.

Passengers in Danger While Going Around Wreck.

Espee Coast Line's Outlook not Encouraging.

Southern Pacific officials at the scene of the gigantic landslide at Punta Gorda, sixteen miles south of Santa Barbara, say it will be a month before it can be cleared away. It may be a week before the bodies of four laborers, killed by the slide, can be recovered.

Not a shovelful of the rock and earth blockade has been touched or will be, until a steam shovel arrives on the north side of the slide, and a hydraulic gun on the south side, which will be late today. In the meantime officials in charge are looking askance at the adjacent cliffs, fearing that they, also, may slip down upon the track. Last night's rain accentuated their fears.

The local south-bound train from Santa Barbara, yesterday afternoon, stopped at Benham, a mile north of the slide, and the passengers walked around the wreck of the work train, that was partly buried when the men were killed.

DANGEROUS PASSAGE.

Knee deep through slimy mud, and in some places through the surf, they plodded in great discomfort. Baggage and mail were transferred in the same manner. The passengers were obviously in danger of death from a possible slide from the cliffs above them while passing the danger point.

The railroad runs high on the bluff, with the ocean breaking beneath at this place. All trains out of Santa Barbara, except No. 23, have been canceled. These are usually through trains from Los Angeles, but will be made up there about noon. No. 18 at 10:30 p.m., and the other at 11:30 a.m.

The chief engineer of the Coast Line Division estimated that he could remove the slide in six days, but the rain which began last evening has completely changed the situation, and new estimates must be made.

The slide that blocked the valley when the officers broke into the room, cleared away at 1:40 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after twenty-six hours' continuous work. The "Owl" left on time last night and expected to get through, but the rain may cause a new slide.

ARMY OF WORKMEN.

All of the available men who have been at work on the Tehachas have been sent to the Punta Gorda slide. The wrecking crew is also on the scene to assist in removing the remains of the construction train. While the steam shovel for use on the north side will arrive this morning, it is doubtful if it will be operated at once, as the adjacent bluffs are in a dangerous condition and may have to be blasted down to insure safety. This would mean that double the amount of dirt to be removed, so the outlook is far from encouraging.

The Walla Walla delegation of business men, scheduled to arrive here yesterday and who were to be entertained by the Chamber of Commerce, are held at Santa Fe school, in the Yuma division of the Southern Pacific is also clear.

All Bearing This Name in Los Angeles Will Arrange to Join in Celebration.

Members of the Lincoln family have arranged to meet this evening in the office of Walter Gould Lincoln, secretary of the Y.M.C.A. Moving to Broadway

J. M. HALE CO. GO TO PETTICOAT LANE

Five Big Bargain Days

Hale's dry goods store that has been located for a quarter of a century on N. Spring St. is now moving to that section of Broadway that is sometimes called Petticoat Lane. Their new location is 341 to 345 S. Broadway, right in the heart of the shopping district. The old store on N. Spring St. will close next Friday night, leaving but five business days in their present quarters.

Hale's advertising man says that the five last days of the Hale business on N. Spring St. will be the greatest bargain days the women of Los Angeles have ever known, as everything will be closed out at cost or less. The reductions for Monday's business are well-nigh reckless. Every article in some departments and some articles in every department are marked at cost or less.

During the removal sale which Hale has been running for some time all old lots and broken assortments were closed out so that all the merchandise now offered is new goods bought for the Broadway store, which was to have been opened in December. Thrifty women, who, through choice or force of circumstances, choose to economize, will do well to visit Hale's, 107 N. Spring St., every day this week.

at Christopher's does not mean that you are confined to Chicken Tamales and Arabian Mocha coffee. Not by any means.

You can select from many dishes as substantial as Corned Beef and Cabbage, but they are all dainty.

Croquet Patties, game patties, lobster salad, chicken sandwiches and many tempting relishes, but always a host of the "substantials." From 11:30 to 2.
